

I awoke in this weird place, and looked around at the strange landscape I had woken up in. And then immediately started looking for Camden. As I looked around my surroundings I heard "Makua, where are you?" I perked up at Camden's voice. "Makua, I think I sprained my ankle!" Camden yelled, "Hey I'm coming!" I shouted, What is this place? I wonder what happened, as I strained to remember, I heard Camden again "What the heck is that thing!" What was happening! I need to get there fast! I thought. But I don't know where there is. "Camden, where are you!"
