

The

Trazoids

The Trazoids

By Logan Latham

Epilogue: The Tattoos

Peter Kelly was walking down the street with his friends Jasper Harper, Calvin Corite, Mary Morris, and Alis Arley. They were talking about their life after college as they were on the last day of school. They all shared a big apartment and shared the rent. They were on their way home when they were greeted by a mysterious man in a dark alley. He asked them if they were interested in getting a tattoo. They decided why not, however they did not have much money. So they would have to find a way to make a quick buck or two. They asked the guy what the price was and he said he would do it for free.

They were amazed at the amount of options the man had for tattoos. Calvin got a tattoo with a snake on it, Jasper got one with two arms arm wrestling, Peter got one with a storm cloud on it, Mary got a tattoo of a brain, Alis got a one of a clock.

Part 1: A not so normal life

Peter was hit with a laser coming directly from the sky. Jasper grabbed a giant rock and threw it at the villain that was floating in the sky. The mutated beast was knocked out of the sky and hit a wall. you could see its arm glowing and suddenly it exploded.

2 weeks earlier

Jasper was taking a shower when it happened. He was shutting off the water when his tattoo had begun glowing. When he was shutting off the water he broke the knob off and water was spraying everywhere he tried turning off the water. When he broke the other knob he ran to the basement of his little house and shut off the water valve."I need to tell my friends."

--

Peter was walking down the street when it happened. He hated the rain, and of course it was raining. I wish it wasn't raining thought Peter. When he wished that the rain died down to a little drizzle his tattoo started glowing and the rain stopped. He had to tell his friends what had happened.

--

Calvin was taking a nature walk with his cousins (Ash and terrence) and brother (fred). He said "Let's play hide and seek", and they all thought it was a great idea. So it was Calvin's turn to find them first. When he finally found his brother he said "your turn ash". So they ran to hide again and Calvin hid in a tree. When he watched Ash walk by he closed his eyes hard and peeked out to see Ash staring at him but not calling him out. Calvin looked down at his hands to not see them. He was invisible! He looked at his arm and noticed his tattoo was glowing "I have to tell the others" he thought.

--

Mary was walking downtown looking for a place to eat. She walked for about an hour and finally stopped at Jerry's Muffin Shop. She stopped by to see what the muffin shop had in stock. They had every type of muffin you could think of, blueberry, chocolate, banana, peach, and many more. She finally settled for a blueberry muffin. She told the man thank you as she paid and left the store.

She walked by a guy on the street who looked at her muffin "Wish I had one of those" he said. She said "here you go" as she handed him a blueberry muffin she was saving for later. He was confused as he never said anything. "How did she know I wanted a muffin?" he asked himself as she walked away. She noticed that her tattoo was glowing moments before. "I have to tell the others" she thought.

--

Alis was running a race and was 2nd to first place. She was running as fast as she could. She imagined her winning the race as she was running. She thought of everyone else freezing in time as she ran past when it happened! She got to first place but everyone wasn't moving. She had frozen them in time. She started to run and saw her tattoo glowing. She had to tell everyone what happened!

--

The friends met up on their walk to get breakfast the next day and they all started talking at the same time. They all started talking at once and it sounded something like this "I have the something say I need to say tell to tell you". It sounded weird because they all said different things at the same time. "Ok you go first." "No you go first" they finally decided to have them talk in this order: Alis, Mary, Peter, Jasper, and finally Calvin. They all told their story about their powers. As they entered the building they realized what they all had in common when their stories happened. They all had glowing tattoos.

Part 2: A Visit from a old friend

The 5 friends were walking down the street when they saw the alley that they got their magical powers from. They walked into the alleyway looking for the man who gave them the tattoos. They were looking around, the dumpster right by the shop was overflowing with trash and the door to the tattoo parlor was wide open. They walked in and saw the man dead. They looked closer at his unconscious body and noticed he had a tattoo on his arm. His skin was still red from the tattoo gun. The tattoo was of a demon-like creature. It started glowing, they jumped back as they saw the corpse float into the air. There were red lasers coming out of the body's mouth and eyes. The body started to gain control of itself as the friends ran. They had no idea what was happening. The body looked mutated in some sort of way, it was not human any longer. They tried to activate their powers to do something about it. They couldn't figure out how to use them, they had to try anything, finally as Jasper tried to pick up a rock, He could lift it, he grabbed it and threw it at the beast. They realized that their powers were activated by doing something that had to do with their powers. Calvin tried climbing a wall, being able to blend in to the bricks behind him waiting to attack. Peter started to brew a thunderstorm to hit the beast with lightning. Mary was keeping the team intact by sending the plan to them via her powers.

Alis was on the ground with Mary helping her predict the enemy's next moves. Their foe finally exited the alleyway and was looking ready to attack. Peter was hit with a laser coming directly from the sky. Jasper grabbed a giant rock and threw it at the villain that was floating in the sky. The mutated beast was knocked out of the sky and hit a wall. you could see its arm glowing and suddenly it exploded.

To be continued...

The hero's powers:

Peter:

Weatherman: Controls the weather with his mind.

Jasper:

Wrestler: Super Strength.

Calvin:

Chameleon: Able to blend into nearby surroundings, sticky hands.

Mary:

Psychic: Read minds, send thoughts into other's minds.

Alis:

Time: Freeze time, Future and past vision.