Chapter 2 Our life with powers

That was how they got our powers, and now they are fighting evil aliens from planet sython. They shot a laser towards us. They saw it coming so we dodged and we teleported to them then shot a laser through their head. King Martha yelled "Retreat!" and just like that all the aliens were gone. "So what do we do now?" asked Jack "I dunno" replied Logan. Since they had nothing to do they went to their underground secret base. Once they arrived at the alley of shame they went into one of the dumpsters and hit a lever and fell down a tube. Once they reached the bottom they just sat down and looked at their computer. "Someone spotted a mysterious figure walking towards the bank" spoke Logan "should we stop them?" asked Jack "of course" replied Logan and they were off again. They jumped across the room, landed in some sort of tube and flicked a lever and it launched them super fast all the way up to the alley of shame. They ran, jumped into their super car that was invisible and rode off to the bank.

Chapter 3 The Bank Robbery?

They drove to the bank in their super car at 700 MPH (miles per hour). Once they arrived they crashed their car into the nearest wall and jumped out dramatically. They used their see through vision and saw through the wall and saw the robbers head into the bank. They also saw a lady in the shower so they stopped using their see through vision. "Put your hands up" yelled the robber and Logan and Jack teleported behind him and captured him in a laser cage. They super speedly ran to the vault to check if anything was stolen "it's all here" Logan spoke psychically "i got them all caged up" Jack spoke psychically. Logan zoomed back to Jack. Once he reached Jack he yelled "lets get them!" they had just realized that the robbers escaped. But the robbers had nothing with them. They saw the robbers running really fast with their powers then teleported to the robbers, grabbed them and flinged them into the nearest wall.

Chapter 4

Some Good Sushi

They just got home from putting those robbers in jail. They were quite hungry so they went for some sushi. They ordered: fish, shrimp, and krab. After they ate Jack & Logan went back to their secret base by teleporting. "Ahhhhhhh" said Logan after a hard day of work "Ahhhhhhhh" replied Jack. Jack and Logan went to their bed and fell asleep. In the morning they just sat in their bed watching TV. Suddenly the bad guy alarm went off. Jack & Logan jumped out of bed and ran to the speed tubes and flew up to the alley then jumped in a different car then zoomed over to where the robbery was. The robbery was at the sushi place they ate at earlier. They revealed that the robbers were the same robbers from the bank robbery.

Jack whispered "we're going back to robbing this place and you talking cat & dog just go home" robber1 said. "We warned you" said Logan, Jack grabbed a laser gun out of his pocket and blasted a laser cage at the robbers. They captured the villain and took them to jail.
